RYAN SHERRY, endearingly referred to as the Pickleball Everyman, was born and raised in Fort Myers, Florida. Sherry grew up playing a number of sports during his high school career. He ultimately chose tennis as he earned a scholarship to play at the University of Florida.

In addition to his success in pickleball, Sherry co-founded Legacy Pro Sports which provides assistance to former NFL players as they transition out of the sport, helping them maintain a quality of life as they transition from one chapter to the next. Through this venture, Sherry has had the honor of representing more than 5,000 former players.
